Altitude Medical

The PullClean door handle (patent pending) is designed to provide sanitizer exactly when it is needed – as hospital workers and staff enter an environment in which patients are at risk. The door handle reminds staff to sanitize as they enter a room and provides them the means to do so. The powerful CountClean software (patent pending) monitors rates of hand sanitization, how much sanitizer is remaining in the handle, and when the cartridge should next be changed. The PullClean door handle provides a cost effective, innovative tool in the fight against infection and will reduce costs, suffering, and mortality.
